

FAQ

Congratulations! You're a dad, more specifically you're a father. Just like your Father in heaven, there are people in your life who look to you every day in reverence for guidance, strength, and support. How you answer that call will determine their future and faith.

Unfortunately, most of us dads don't take the time to reflect on this calling.

You are invited to take time out on a special challenge weekend, April 29th-May 1st, 2022.

This weekend, put on by other men of the parish (all dads themselves), is your opportunity to reflect, interact with other dads, and be challenged to grow in the most important job of your life.

The weekend begins Friday night at Mother Cabrini Shrine in the Stone House Retreat center. Once there, you will become part of what we call the receiving team—with about 12 other dads like yourself. A series of talks, reflections, and exercises will be given by a group of men from the parish who have volunteered to make the weekend possible—the giving team. Together, the talks and exercises will provide positive tools and insights to help all of us grow and better our skills and commitment to father- hood.

During your time on the weekend there will also be opportunity to interact with dads of all ages, Christian faiths and walks of life. Finally, you will be challenged to reflect on the spiritual side of fatherhood and deepen your relationship with God. Our hope is that you will encounter God like never before on this weekend. The program goes through Saturday and ends Sunday after lunch. Priests from the area may also join us for part of the weekend.

The cost of the weekend is $200. It covers a room for two evenings, six meals and expenses. This price has been subsidized by the Knights of Columbus Council 12336 and donations of other dads to make it affordable to all (and so dads don't use the cost as a reason not to come). A message center and help team has been organized to look after family needs and to keep distractions to a minimum. Scholarships are available.

Will you join us?

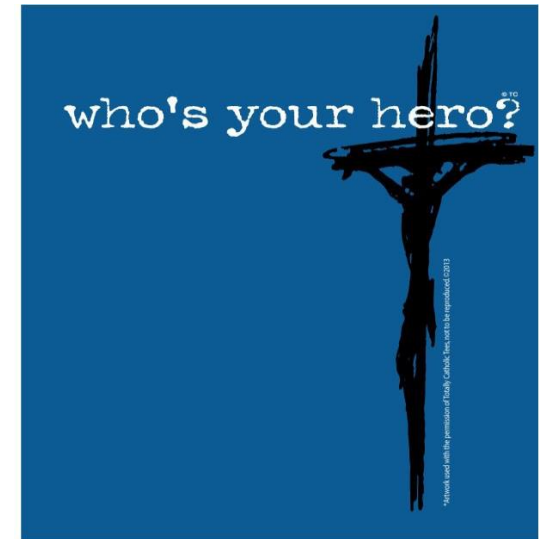

God Bless,

- 1. What is the cost & what does it include? Your cost is $200. It includes two nights lodging, six meals, and materials. Scholarships are available if cost is a great difficulty.
- 2. What is my commitment? Your commitment is to attend the entire weekend as outlined by the schedule (See inside of brochure)
- 3. What goes on during the weekend? This weekend is designed to challenge you in your role as a Christian father and husband. That is accomplished through sharing by different men who have already agreed to share their own experiences as fathers in the context of their faith, and then through exercises in which all who are there discuss their own perspectives, experiences, and hope for becoming better fathers and husbands.
- 4. What if I need to be reached or my family needs me? A message center will be in operation 24 hours a day during the weekend should someone have a need to reach you.
- 5. What Should I bring? Bring comfortable clothing for the weekend, enough for two nights and days. In addition, bring personal hygiene items and personal items you wish. Bring a Bible. What not to bring: Alcohol.
